

OIL WIZARD OF INDIANA

Jacob Long, Whose Forked Stick Points to the Fluid.

IT IS ALWAYS ACCURATE.

RECENT DISCOVERIES HAVE ADDED TO AND MADE HIS REPUTATION NATIONAL.

AT IT FOR TWENTY YEARS.

For a Long Time Before the Oil Fever Became Epidemic He Was Known as the Water Wizard.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Dec. 14.—Down at Jefferson lies a man who has become famous because of his unerring prediction as to the location of oil streams in the bowels of the earth. His name is Jacob Long. He does the trick with a forked stick.

Twenty years ago, when yet in his prime, Long was sought after far and near. He was known as a water witch and whenever a sawmill or place of residence was selected it was then that Long was called upon to see if nature had made provision for water. By means of a forked stick, one prong of which he held in each hand, and the single prong pointing upward, Long would begin his search for the vein of water. As he passed over the vein the forked stick would turn in his hands and point downward.

So unerringly did Long perform his work that no one thought of putting down a well in his vicinity unless the water witch was consulted.

Once, about twenty years ago, while Long was searching for water his forked stick limply performed such antics that even the diviner was amazed. When seeking to locate water the stick always turned outward from him and pointed down, but only when standing directly over the vein of water and losing the strange power when it was crossed. But on this occasion the stick turned both inward and outward and on any place within a several-acre tract.

This phenomenon was worth the time it could comprehend. He studied about it several weeks and finally went to H. Dowell, a man of learning and inquired what else could be found in the earth. Dowell, after enumerating many natural products, stated that in some parts of the country oil and gas were also found. Long then announced to his rural neighbors that he had discovered farms lay vast reservoirs of gas and oil. So absurd did this seem that he was laughed at and a little while later he was ridiculed to induce some of his acquaintances to aid in proving his predictions.

By hard work he had secured a little farm, and when confronted by financial difficulties he decided to try his luck in the oil business.

Long naturally refused to do it back. After a stormy interview with his brother he decided to try his fortunes in another State. He went to Crawford County, Ohio.

During his stay there the county experienced an oil boom, in which Jake and his forked stick outdressed a fortune teller who would believe in his strange power and having no money of his own, he gave his services for free or for nothing. He worked hard to accumulate money to put down a well for himself.

While in Ohio he learned that his predictions made to his neighbors in his county twenty years ago had been verified and he returned here. His predictions since then have been accurate and precise and he is now beginning to enjoy the local fame he has so long sought.

At the Kamelet well, drilled on the Sam Gadsbury lease, a mile east of Jefferson, the grizzled old oil wizard said there would be no oil, and he was right, notwithstanding two small oil producing wells in the immediate vicinity and a little while later he predicted that this particular well would be a gusher.

This wildcat well located is now making 150 barrels a day and the same company is putting two more wells on adjoining leases and other companies are being attracted to the field, which, it is believed, is destined to outlive the famous Peru field. All this comes about through the efforts of the oil wizard, who was looked at and considered a lunatic twenty years ago for predicting that there was oil within the boundaries of the State. The faith Long's former friends now have in him is shown by the eagerness with which he is drilled on an abandoned well 300 feet deeper, as directed by the wizard.

The Manhattan Oil Co. drilled a well on the Knox farm, four miles north of Jefferson, near the wizard's residence, and he predicted that its production would be greater than any well in the State. The company experienced great difficulty in putting down the well and finally abandoned it after reaching the regulation depth, when it was a strong case of drilling stopped 30 feet short of the wizard's required limit and now a movement is on foot to drill the well 20 feet deeper, as Long strenuously contends and his followers believe it will result as he predicts. On the other hand, he has gratuitously volunteered his predictions with great accuracy.

Long is 60 years old and a bachelor. Although he was born in Indiana, he can speak English only brokenly and prefers German. He admits that aside from being able to locate oil wells he is the most ignorant man in the State, knowing little of the outside world.

A HUSBAND'S PLAIN.

HENRY BARCKERS SAYS AN ATTEMPT WAS MADE TO PLACE HIM IN AN ASYLUM.

WILL SUE FOR A DIVORCE.

says All Would Have Been Pleasant but for the Interference of His Wife's Relatives.

Henry N. Barckers, 4234 North Market street, has retained Attorney Miller and Brewer to bring a second divorce suit for him.

"It is a case of family interference, aggravated by a trance medium," said Mr. Barckers to a Post-Dispatch reporter Tuesday morning.

"Eleven years ago," he continued, "when Eliza Collins became my wife, I was devoted to her and she to me. But I made a mistake. I permitted my wife's relatives to take me into their home as a son and brother. Their motives may have been good enough, but there was an incompatibility that proved a barrier to harmony. The result was a divorce. My wife remained with her mother and I went to a boarding house at 204 Olive street. I filed suit against Mrs. Mary Collins, my mother-in-law, for alienating my wife's affections."

"I soon regretted the act and withdrew the suit. 'Meanwhile I became acquainted with a young woman of Jerseyville, named Eliza, who promised to marry me. My former wife called to see me shortly before I was to marry the Jerseyville girl and talked of reconciliation. The result was marriage. I had prospered financially during our separation and had located at the City Hotel, 4234 North Market street. One stipulation was that we were to keep away from my children—a boy and a girl—day after day. I broke this rule. My mother-in-law came to my sister-in-law, and trouble came. 'Oct. 8, I was hurried through the streets in a patrol wagon and unloaded at the City Hospital to be examined as to my sanity. My sister-in-law and my wife informed the Sixth District police that I was insane and needed isolation. I was kept in the observation ward at the hospital from 4 o'clock to 9 o'clock the following morning. As soon as Dr. Sutter, the Superintendent, saw me he ordered my release. My hands were not bound. I immediately returned to my home on North Market street, from whence I had been dragged the day before by two stupid policemen and a patrol wagon driver. My wife was not there. She had taken our two children—a boy and a girl—with her. 'I went at once to the home of my mother-in-law, 204 North Thirteenth street. My sister-in-law said my wife was sick and that I could not enter the house. 'I believe my wife would have made my home happy but for her relatives. They dictated and she obeyed. 'Just what part of my domestic trouble was caused by trance mediums I am unable to state. I only know that a clairvoyant known as Mme. Snow told my wife that she would die by violence. My hands were not bound. Henry N. Barckers is 34 years old. He is a painting contractor and is familiarly known in building circles as "Nick" Barckers.

The City Hospital records verify Barckers' statement. The records show that he was arrested by the Sixth District police Oct. 8 and was held at the City Hospital until Oct. 9. "Released by order of Dr. Sutter" is an entry. Supplemental memoranda shows that the patient was discharged sane. On the police report is the statement that Barckers was taken into custody at the instance of his wife and a Mrs. Moore, who, Barckers says, is his sister-in-law. A reporter for the Post-Dispatch called at the residence of Mrs. Collins Tuesday morning and asked to see Mrs. Barckers. "Wait a minute," said Mrs. Collins, as she retired to another part of the house. Five minutes later she returned. Mrs. Collins returned with the information that Mrs. Barckers was sick and would not see the reporter.

"Anything you want to say to her can be said to me," suggested the mother. "My daughter does not care to dispute the case at all and I am certain that I have nothing to say."

THE BROADWAY.

A Myriad of Delighted Customers Testify to the Ever-Increasing Popularity of a Great Store.

That "The Broadway" has firmly established itself in the confidence of those dealing with it was never more forcibly demonstrated than at this time by the crowds of visitors which flow like a tide into this popular establishment, drawn there by a wonderful display of Christmas furniture and household goods. The Broadway is an honor to the city and a source of doing business is winning for it the success it justly deserves. A stroll through this great establishment is a real pleasure and its beauties and advantages can only be appreciated. Every department contributes to the extraordinary Christmas event, and the whole store shows a marvelous collection of beautiful and practical goods for the adornment of the home. One of the most interesting exhibits is the collection of useful articles suitable for Christmas presents, which includes book-cases, sideboards, dressing tables, wardrobes, couches, dinner, tea and toilet sets, extension and center tables, pictures, rockers, parlor sofas, children's high chairs, lamps and a beautiful line of carpets. For the accommodation of those who are unable to visit the store in the day time arrangements have been made to keep open every night until 9 o'clock from now until Christmas. Those who fail to visit The Broadway this week will miss a great and pleasant sight unrepented in the history of our furniture salons.

OPPOSITION TO THE EDISON

Imperial Company Thinks It Has Found a Way to Bid on the Lighting.

The Imperial Electric Light and Power Co. thinks it has found a way to circumvent the recent opinion of City Councilman Marshall, which virtually shut it out of conduit privileges by forbidding its tunneling under the streets and increasing its ducts to reach its power house. The only alternative the councilman's opinion left the Imperial was to secure special legislation from the Municipal Assembly. Action with the Board of Public Improvements in which it stated that its power house was permanently located at Ninth and St. Charles streets and wishes to commence the construction of its lateral and feed pipes and appurtenant devices with the power house by constructing a manhole on Ninth and St. Charles streets through a thirty-six-inch vitrified brick pipe.

Two drawings accompany the petition, either of which the company is willing to select as the method by which it can connect its ducts with its power house. The petition was referred to the committee on streets and lighting without comment.

Attorney Drabell, for the Imperial, said that the relief sought in the petition in no way conflicts with Mr. Marshall's opinion. He also says that while the "appurtenant" asked for will not answer the full purpose of a tunnel as previously requested, they will serve for the connection of the ducts with the power-house so as the plan can be operated.

Mr. Drabell called attention to the fact that while Mr. Marshall's opinion was pending on the very subject that shut the Imperial out of the board granted the Missouri Electric Light and Power Co. the right to tunnel and construct a vault for entrance to its power-house at Nineteenth and Locust streets, and that it extends under the crossing of those streets.

Mr. Drabell said that the Imperial submitted plans for the new shelter house at O'Fallon Park and the board granted the Imperial the right to tunnel and construct a vault for entrance to its power-house at Nineteenth and Locust streets, and that it extends under the crossing of those streets.

HYPNOTIST IN COURT.

"Prof." Leake Said He Was Willing to Teach Miss Epps $3 Worth.

Miss Jennie Epps, a winsome little brunette of 17, sat in the witness chair before Judge Murphy Tuesday and told the story of her ambition to become a hypnotist and her experience with "Prof." Samuel Leake as a teacher.

"The 'professor' was on trial charged with petit larceny. Miss Epps alleges that he secured $2 from her as a fee for teaching her the art and that he did not fulfill his contract.

"I wanted to get a position of some kind," Miss Epps testified, "and when I saw an advertisement that 'Prof.' Leake wanted a lady assistant in hypnotism and osteopathy, I thought it would suit me. I applied for the place and was told that I must first pass through a course of training and that such training would cost me $2. My father paid the fee. Then 'Prof.' Leake did not teach me as he agreed."

Judge Murphy said he wanted to hear from the defendant. When Prof. Leake mounted the witness stand everybody wondered if he would attempt to hypnotize Judge Murphy. He did not, however, and straight in the eye, but he did not make any of the mystic passes with his hands.

The defendant acknowledged receipt of the money and said he would have carried out his agreement had he been permitted. "Defendant discharged," said Judge Murphy.

Mr. Williams did not care to harbor any grudge against the hypnotist, but he did not care to let the hypnotist go without a warning. He said that he had heard of men snatching women's purses and this one looked easy. I was desperate and I made up my mind to try it. As she passed me I snatched the purse and ran. She screamed and several men began to chase me.

"My only thought was to escape with the purse. I ran about four blocks when my wind gave out. I ran back to the street and hid under a mattress. It seemed to me like an hour before the officer found me. His picture and Bertillon measurements were taken Tuesday and they will be sent to the principal cities for identification.

Walsh, when discovered, said he had a partner, Edward Mead, who was also in the building. Search for Mead failed to reveal a second robber. The prisoner said they had entered the building by climbing over a water pipe and forcing open a window.

In reply to a telephone message Police Men Knolhoff and O'Connell went to the Illinois-works office and arrested Walsh. The prisoner was identified by some of the officers.

FOUR BOY BURGLARS WEEP.

Held a Sausage, Pig's Feet and Sauerkraut Revel, Then Stole Pullet.

Four desperate criminals confined in a cell in the Fifth District Police Station twined their arms about each other's necks in a paroxysm of despair, cried themselves sick in an agony of anticipation of the punishment in store for them and sobbed themselves to sleep in each other's arms Monday night.

The prisoners are Eddie Brock, 8 years old, living at 313 North Twelfth street; Frank Meyer, aged 10, 1308 North Fourteenth street; William Dickson, aged 12, of 219 North Thirteenth street; Fred Gray, 14, of Twelfth and Palm streets. They are charged with the heinous crime of burglary and larceny. They were captured by the police after herculean efforts and the expenditure of a large amount of police and Phillips' patrolmen.

The boys are charged with having broken into the meat shop of Frank Weber, at 340 North Fourteenth street, Monday evening, and stealing therefrom three live chickens, all of the value of $1. Mr. Weber recovered his poultry, but was unable to prosecute the youthful predators.

The boys had a copious of live chickens in his cellar when he looked up his butcher shop at 5 o'clock and went home. The boys, in a spirit of mischief, went to the rear of the shop, broke an iron grating protecting the cellar, and crawled into the cellar. They proceeded to hold high revel with sausage hung up in the rafters, and a barrel of sauerkraut. When they had dined they ate the tenderest and most critical point they could get of chicken.

As their evident purpose to take one apple, but at the critical moment one of them backed out, and only three squawking pullets accompanied them out of the cellar. One of these they sold to Mrs. Annie Funk of 314 North Twelfth street, and another to John Melzak of 313 North Twelfth street, receiving 25 cents for each. The third fowl young Meyer took home with him. He placed it in his back yard, but the chicken over the fence into the yard of Mr. Williams.

Mr. Williams did not care to harbor any grudge against the boys, but he did not care to let the boys go without a warning. He said that he had heard of men snatching women's purses and this one looked easy. I was desperate and I made up my mind to try it. As she passed me I snatched the purse and ran.
